

Jen LA
23 February 2018 · 9 Add topics

The ONLY football match that matters today, it's the Victoria Cup. Never mind that it's -10 °C and snowing. Can the Mighty Stripes beat Sättra SK, who are 3 leagues above them?

38 Comments

Like Comment Share

Jen LA Match has just kicked off. I doubt my fingers or my phone battery will cope with the cold long enough for many updates. But, it's do my best.

Jen LA Stripes go into the match 3-0 up. The ladies confidently scored all their penalties.

Jen LA 3 mins gone. Sättra score, 3-1.

Jen LA Updated: Our penalty scorers were @ think! Sofie Alsterfors, Sabina Sandberg and Lisa Lindborg.

Jen LA 8 mins. They score from a free kick, 3-2.

Jen LA

Jen LA 15 mins: Långholmen are just starting to get back in the game, after a blow, but tricky first quarter of an hour.

Jen LA ... but the team in orange score on the counter to tie the game, 3-3, 18 minutes.

Jen LA 20 mins, 3-4. So, yeah. After Chelsea earlier, I'm starting to worry for a last kick churm.

Dave Abergel Go Långholmen!

Jen LA Our sub goalie makes a couple of great saves to keep the Stripes in this match.

Jen LA Lovely bit of skill from Cecilia Vejlers Norberg to deny Sättra a corner.

Jen LA A good save. Then Schäffner goes on a run to get it up towards their goal. Then Sättra get it back, but are stopped by Sarah Pearce.

Jen LA 38 minutes. 3-5. Sättra get another goal.

Jen LA Cecilia Vejlers Norberg goes down and play is paused. Luckily she seems ok to carry on.

Jen LA Sättra score to make it 3-6. They're not even celebrating their goals anymore.

Jen LA On the 43rd minute the ref signals for the end of the half. I'm ok with that.

Jen LA Second half has begun

Jen LA The snow is easing off a little...

Jen LA They scored on the 48th and 49th minute. It's 3-8.

Jen LA At least, I think. It's 3-8. I was very distracted by discovering the chocolate I have brought with me has frozen.

Jen LA They score again, 3-9. The snow has restarted.

Jen LA I know this must SUCK big time for Långholmen. But they should be proud of their attitude and heart.

Jen LA On the 54th minute Sättra scored from a free kick to make it 3-10. Then my battery died.

Jen LA The phone in the bra trick appears to have revived my phone. Nothing can revive this game.

Jen LA Sättra's team of subs are huddled under a blanket on their bench. On our bench... one player, a player who just came off (I assume injured). We are now playing with only 10.

Jen LA And it's 3-11.

Jen LA 12

Jen LA Goal line scramble. But bravely kept out.

Jen LA The full time whistle goes. By my math, that second half was only 20 minutes long. I'm confused. Maybe I can't tell time.

Jen LA Final score, 3-12 @ think, I also can't count!

Dave Abergel

Dave Abergel I guess the other team were just way too good. But well done for fighting until the end!

Dave Abergel And thanks for the updates too.

Jen LA This wasn't the happiest, warmest, or longest game of football I've ever seen. But, it was beautifully good natured and our ladies played with spirit and organization. If they play like that this season, against opposition from OUR division, it's gonna be a brilliant season!

Kerstin Skye Blomquist Thanks for the support! We went into the game with most of our usual squad out sick or away. 10 times hit us hard... See more Jen LA I went off the squad numbers that players usually wear, but I guess those were incorrect due to all the switches. Sorry.

Seriouly, you should all be so proud. I know it sounds crazy, but after watching whiny, petulant, overpaid, premier league players, it was a JOY to watch. You were brilliant, so determined and organized and kept your heads up. And, I'm in no doubt we'll have an excellent season ahead.

Jen LA Also, at the final whistle, I asked a man who was supporting the other team if he knew why the match had ended early. He hilarily misinterpreted the entire concept of football to me. (Including that matches have two halves, and the first half comes last... See more)

Sara Jansson replied · 2 replies

Write a comment...

post reply

1 post • Page 1 of 1

morty mccarthy

Posts: 2616

Joined: Mon Apr 05, 2004 8:47 pm

weekend scores round up 1/2 Sept

by morty mccarthy on Sat Sep 01, 2018 7:27 pm

K7 got the weekend off to a very good start with a 6-1 win on Fri night back at our old stomping ground and moved up to 3rd place in the Friday night leagues the ladies were coasting 3 nil at home against Norsborg but suddenly were clinging on for a draw when Norsborg brought the game back to three-three in the 2nd half. Frida Lundh scored right at the death to claim the victory for the stripes and help the team to start the climb back up the table in the 2nd game of the day at Stora Essingen D4 had a real humdinger of a game against Enskededalen which finished 3-3 in the end. The stripes will feel hard done by the result as they were on the wrong end of some controversial refereeing decisions three teams in action on Sunday on a busy weekend for the club first up were the ladies having to play a second game in two days vs Osmo and the stripes lost 5 nil to the runaway league leaders unfortunately the Vets were away to Bromma and put in a terrific display but just fell short against the team that has topped the table all season-final score there was 1-0 to Bromma last game of the day was K1 vs Not Utd and the Korpen lads lost out 4-3 in an exciting game

post reply

Board index / Stockholm Football Club Forum / Forum of Seriousness (For all LFC

post reply

 Search this topic...

1 post • Page 1 of 1

morty mccarthy

Posts: 2616

Joined: Mon Apr 05, 2004 8:47 pm

pm

email

weekend scores round up 28-30 Sept

edit

X

!

!

?

quote

 by morty mccarthy on Sat Sep 29, 2018 10:23 pm

results haven't been going our way this weekend so far unfortunately on Fri night K7 had a night to forget and were soundly beaten 9-3 by Krav Maga Sat saw the ladies in action against old rivals Aspudden and they lost 3-2 in the derby game

D4 faced a tough opponent in the 2nd game of the day at Essingen against 3rd placed Sparvagen and they went down 4-2

The L's Korpen side played Tudor Arms in the final game of the weekend and the game was a real ding dong affair

The Stripes were two up after thirty minutes thanks to two fine goals from Cameron and Roberto-Tudor got one back before the break to give them hope and they laid siege on the Langholmen goal early on in the 2nd half and got the equaliser with about 20 minutes to go. Both teams had chances to win the game but couldn't convert. The Langholmen defence was marshalled superbly by centre back Fraser and held out for a point. Korpen are putting together a really good squad now and the addition of some new recruits has really helped to sharpen the team up and they will be strong next season

post reply

1 post • Page 1 of 1

morty mccarthy

Posts: 2616

Joined: Mon Apr 05, 2004 8:47 pm

weekend scores round-up 7-9 Sept

by morty mccarthy on Sat Sep 08, 2018 9:00 pm

D4 were the first team playing this weekend in the local derby against Krukan at Zinkensdamm which saw them lose 4-3 after being 3-1 up with 25 minutes to go. The team remain in 5th place in the league with only 2 points between them and 3rd placed Rinkeby

K7 were in action just down the road in the 7 a side league at Langholmen and were comprehensive winners on the night by a score of 5 nil. New striker Richness continues to impress and bagged a hat-trick for himself. The stripes are now up to 2nd place in the league

The ladies had a day to forget today losing by 7 nil against high flyers Hanviken. Sunday saw our other two teams in action. The vets lost 4-2 in an ill-tempered affair vs Ekerö at home in Essingen

K1 lost 3-2 in their game which leaves them in 5th place in the league

post reply

1 post • Page 1 of 1

morty mccarthy

Posts: 2616

Joined: Mon Apr 05, 2004 8:47 pm

weekend scores round up 5-7 Oct

by morty mccarthy on Sat Oct 06, 2018 1:51 pm

a positive weekend of results for the stripes in their various matches

K7 won 6-1 on Fri night at Langholmen to move themselves up to 2nd in the league

D4 finished the season with a win against Hasselby away-The Stripes scored 5 goals in the first 29 minutes and ran out 5-3 winners in the end.This was the last game of the season and the result ensured the team finished in 6th place

The ladies ended their season on a winning note by winning 2-0 away to Varmdo but this wasn't enough to avoid relegation unfortunately as they finished 2nd from bottom in their league

Korpen won a crucial game against FC Ribba to move them out of the relegation zone and they are most likely safe now as only one team can catch them on points but the L's have a goal difference of 12 goals going in to the last match against their opponents

Vets played away to Hasselby in their last game of the season and managed to draw three three despite being a man down for the full 60 minutes.their final league placing was 6th of 8

